Voters May Be Asked To Approve New Town Hall

CONGESTED CONDITIONS LIKE THIS plus structural weaknesses at Town Hall are what may lead to immediate consideration of a new government building at Town Meeting in March. This is the cramped quarters of the three employees in the Tax Collector's office. (Cole)

Study Opposes Leasing, Cites Urgency Of Need

It is considered virtually a certainty that the Board of Selectmen will re-open the Warrant for Town Meeting this week to insert an article to appropriate funds for immediate construction of a new Town Hall.

There is good reason for such a conclusion. Members now have in their hands a study committee report that labels the Town Hall situation urgent. Observers consider it doubtful that in the face of such a blunt statement the Board will take a position favoring still further study.

Axelrod Gets Foes And Fans

Some West Andover residents are "fer" and some are "agin" Harry Axelrod's proposal to develop a shopping center near his Rolling Green Motor Inn on Lowell St.

Residents are also taking split attitudes to his plan for a recreation area on still other acreage adjacent to the motor hotel.

Their reactions have been heard twice within a week, once at a Zoning Board of Appeals hearing on a petition for a permit to develop the recreation plan and again at Monday's Planning Board hearing which considered Axelrod's request for a zoning by-laws change to permit construction of a shopping center on land now zoned as Single Residence C.

West end residents who back Axelrod in his shopping center plan point out that they now travel at least six to eight miles to shop.

Those who oppose, claim that the rezoning would leave the area wide open to further commercial encroachment.

The plan Axelrod now has before the Planning Board is essentially the same as one he took to Town Meeting last fall. The Board did not publicly support him then, but they offered no opposition. Axelrod withdrew the article, however, when the crowd dwindled sufficiently after the school vote to create some doubt about the possibility of fair consideration.

As for the present proposal, Board Chairman Harold King has gone so far as to agree that West Andover does need a shopping area, and that Axelrod has a good site. At Thursday's Zoning Board

News Capsules

• Andover is in a fat free cash position, having some $700,000 in surplus. The figure is still unofficial, but close enough to prompt Accountant Wendall Matheson's comment that it is the best in years.

• Architects have finally finished their space-use conferences with school administrators. Town Manager Richard Bowen said Tuesday that he believes sketches may be available for the Building Committee in a week to 10 days.

Water, Willis Report Interest Candidates

Two candidates for re-election to the Board of Selectmen told a near-capacity audience at Sanborn School Tuesday that the problem of an adequate water supply should be Andover's number one worry between now and 1970.

Selectman Roger W. Collins led off, pointing out that it is going to take a very wet spring to counteract the shortage of water resulting from two dry years and one dry winter coupled with a steady growth in consumption. He predicted that water use will have to be curtailed this summer, unless nature does an about face.

For a solution he offered the proposed Fish Brook Dam plan, known to be the preference of Water Supt. Donald C. Bassett. It has been estimated that a dam at the point where this stream flows into the Merrimack could hold back enough water to meet local water needs for at least 10 years. (See the Townsman, Oct. 29, 1964.)

Selectman William Stewart, stating that town services "should and must be expanded," told those at the League of Women Voters first Candidates' Night that it is the water service which should be getting "undivided attention."

He commented too on the need for new industry, but said the search should be restricted to the "proper type", a terminology he did not define. Stewart added that "We are getting bites," a probable reference to the fact that talks are proceeding with two companies interested in sites off Dascumb Rd.

The first is Allied Chemical Corp. which announced last summer that it would like to build a distribution center in Andover. Its property negotiations are reportedly near completion, and the committee which for two weeks studied the leasing proposal made by Danton Realty Trust.

As predicted, the committee turned thumbs down on the proposal: "The committee unanimously recommends town ownership of facilities in all cases except where a temporary one or two-year lease is expedient to meet unusual conditions."

The committee went on in its summary, signed by R. S. Neildrk, chairman, to call to the Board's attention "the urgency of replacing present town office facilities with more adequate, sound and satisfactory quarters."

The report goes on to say that Town Hall "is in a hazardous state of disrepair." To underline this consensus, the committee recommended immediate transfer of all town records, other than those needed for day-to-day reference, to some other location. The idea: to relieve space congestion and overloading of the flooring.

To support its contention that leasing is not practical for Andover, the committee compared the cost of the Danton offer with figures it worked up on the cost of ownership.

In a five year plan, the committee estimates that for that period it would cost the town $248,000 in principal and interest payments on a $400,000 building. This figure, close to the cost estimate for the building proposed in 1955, was arrived at by figuring on 18,000 square feet at $21 a square foot. The manager gave this square footage figure to the committee to cover his minimum space needs.

The gross five-year cost of the Danton offer at $2.98 per square foot comes to $268,000.

The committee negates the value of the increased tax revenues that could result if the town were to take three floors in the proposed Standard International Building, thereby necessitating a waiver on present regulations which prevent construction of buildings taller than three stories.

The committee estimates that the taxes on 18,000 sq. ft. of space @ $21 equals $378,000 in ratable evaluation. (This figure would not include the full value of three floors in the Standard Building which are to run 7,000 square feet each.) Using a $40 tax rate for calculations, the committee estimated the tax revenues on such space would bring the town about $76,500 in five years.

The gross cost, less this tax revenue figure, set the net cost to the town to $192,000, according to the committee.

And, says the report, "at the end of five years, the town would still have to provide its own facilities or continue to lease, in which case the town would have to pay a minimum of another $192,000 for the next five years, or a total of $385,200 over a 10-year period."

In its conclusion, the committee points out that over a five year period, the town would benefit from the proposed lease arrangement to the extent of $55,400. It states, however, that this would be more than offset by a $200,000 increase in assets if it were to provide its own quarters.

To add additional weight to the argument, the committee cited the ability to the determine architectural scheme, the flexibility with regard to additions or alterations that result from ownership, and zoning law conformance as significant factors.

The committee takes the position that it would not be advisable to recommend a plan which would establish a precedent of suggesting building code changes. "A procedure of this type could lead to some most unsatisfactory conditions in the future," it concluded.

The Selectmen, at their informal meeting tonight, will consider some objections from Developer John Davidson on figures used by the committee in making its judgments.

"Y" Banquet February 22

The Greater Lawrence YMCA will stick with tradition and hold its annual Father and Son Banquet on George Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22.

F. Lewis Brown, director of youth activities, has arranged a program which will begin at 4 p.m. with the presentation of slides on the "Y" Camping program by Wellington Tinker, director of camping services. Shown will be pictures taken at the Day Camp, Camp Lawrence for Boys, Camp Nokomis for Girls and the Family Camps.

A swim is scheduled for 5 p.m. and the banquet will be served in Russell Hall at 6 p.m. Later entertainment will be provided by Bob Munstedt of Needham who will present an hour-long family fun show, including ventriloquism, accordion solos and a Punch and Judy story.

Reservations are being taken at the "Y" and may be telephoned to Mr. Brown until Feb. 19, the deadline.

Housing Laws For Realtors Raise Issues

Andover real estate agents will question William J. White, managing director of the Brokers Institute of Greater Boston on fair housing issues here Monday.

White will appear at Kemper Auditorium at 8 p.m. to speak on "Suburbia and Fair Housing."

These three questions are among those he will be called upon to answer:

What is an agent's obligation to a client when people of a minority group are involved?

Do valuations drop when a family belonging to a minority group move into a neighborhood?

How can a realtor protect himself in a situation where the law requires showing and selling houses to all people but the client refuses?

Mrs. George Cairns of Amherst Rd. has returned to her home after a pleasant vacation spent in Miami, Fla.

Social Use Of Alcohol Subject For Discussion

"Contact" is the theme for a program on alcohol to be held Feb. 18 at 7:30 p.m. at South Church to stimulate interest in making individual responsibility relevant to the use of alcoholic beverages. The public meeting is sponsored by the South Church Women's Fellowship.

Speaking will be John Rogers a Needham teacher who has wide experience also in industry and the armed forces. He is a counselor for the Greater Boston Council on Alcoholism.

On the panel will be Rev. Richard Streeter, associate minister for the host church, moderator; Atty. Joel Labell; Richard Villa, Salem probation officer now on the North Shore Committee on Alcoholism; and a member of Alateens, an organization for young people whose parents are alcoholic.

Skits, open discussion and refreshments will conclude the program. Members of the Social Action Committee making arrangements are Mrs. David Coffman, chairman, Mrs. Arthur Ermer, Mrs. J. J. Word and Mrs. Joseph Hoffman.

Lay Workers Here Sunday

Sunday Andover Baptist Church members will be participating in a one-day "Faith at Work Conference."

A team of five Worcester laymen, trained for the Christian-witness project by representatives from its New York base, will speak at the 10:45 a.m. worship service.

They will appear also at a 3 p.m. meeting for discussion with junior high, senior high and adult groups. In the team are a company treasurer, an office manager, an industrial manager and a data process manager. Their theme will be "Dare to Live Now." The project is aimed at church renewal through an activated laity.

Other churches may send observers to the conference which is open to the general public.

Bands Dancing Friday Night

Members of both the Boys' and Girls' Bands and their guests will attend a Valentine Dance planned for Friday by the Andover Band Parents Assoc.

Dancing will begin at 7:30 p.m. and continue until 11 p.m. at the high school.

On the committee are Mrs. Cornelius Deacon, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koester, Howard Young and Edward Grigoll. Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. George Brightman, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Noyes, Mr. Young, The Koesters, Mr. and Mrs. Roger McGrath, Mr. and Mrs. William Long, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Myles Reilly and Mr. and Mrs. Fernand Lussler.

Unitarians Act At Annual Meet

At its annual meeting John H. Shinner was elected president of the Unitarian Universalist Church.

Other officers named were: Lily G. Peel, treasurer; Ernest Kaufman, assistant treasurer; Judith Croston, clerk; Edward W. Croston, collector; Peter Olney, director at large; Ann Symons, director, membership; Joseph Newell, director, denominational affairs.

A ceremony of recognition was conducted for Edwin Craven who was presented with an inscribed gavel. Active with the church since he began Sunday School in his youth, Craven was elected to the board of the church in 1954 and has served consecutively in one or more official positions since. For the past three years he has been chairman of the building committee, continuing also as a teacher in the School of Religion which he has served for many years.

DARTMOUTH WOMEN MEETING WEDNESDAY

Andover members of the Dartmouth Women's Club, Inc. will attend a meeting scheduled for Wed., Feb. 17 at the Windsor Room of the Brookline Motor Hotel, 1223 Beacon St., Brookline.

The Executive Board will convene at 11 a.m. Dessert and coffee will be served at 1 p.m. and the program will begin at 2 p.m. Speaking will be Winslow Eaves, sculptor, from the Hopkins Center of Visual and Performing Arts, Dartmouth. He will discuss "Sculptural Ideas and Methods."

Also on the club calendar an auction to be held in May to finance the purchase of additional furnishings for the lodge at Andover Recreation Park. The organization, which has taken on the furnishing project, is asking townspeople to save items for the auction, calling Mrs. Richard Hutchinson to donate them.

At its last meeting the club welcomed 16 new members: Mrs. Albert Alexander, Mrs. Harold Azarian, Mrs. James Briggs, Mrs. Martin Caughey, Mrs. Donald Clough, Mrs. James Fiorenza, Mrs. Arthur Gerardin, Mrs. Clarence Nelson, Mrs. Lester Newill, Mrs. Albert Pettoruto, Mrs. Mitchell Sawaya, Mrs. Norman Teahan, Mrs. William Thomas, Mrs. Halford Woodson, Mrs. William Workman and Mrs. Thomas Puglisi.

On the program were dramatic skits by the Shawsheen Players, Mrs. Paul Gyrsting, Mrs. Roger Whitcomb, Mrs. Frank Maloney, Mrs. Carlo Lamagna and Mrs. John McFarland.

In addition, Mrs. Michael Warchol, tenth district director and a guest for the evening, reported on the Federation's support for a safety legislation that would decrease the state accident rate. A report was also heard from Mrs. Alfred Naman who attended the mid-winter meeting in Boston.

It has been announced that members are expected to get community service hours in to Mrs. Richard Hutchinson by March 15, including any volunteer hours spent in hospital service, library work, youth activities, scouting, at blood banks, working with senior citizens, on Red Cross drives for the United Fund or with the blind. Also allowable: time spent as room mothers, den mothers and such miscellaneous community activities.

Hostesses for the February meeting, Mrs. John Eosefow and Mrs. Frederick Yunggebauer, were assisted by Mrs. Carolyn Abbott, Mrs. William Ammon, Mrs. Austin Anderson, Mrs. Walter Anderson, Mrs. William Bailey, Mrs. Andrew Baillie, Mrs. Edward Goldthwaite, Mrs. Warren Oldaker, Mrs. John Wilkinson, Mrs. Owen Williams, Mrs. Bruno Wojtkun and Mrs. Hiram Young.

Before us is Lincoln's birthday and the seventh weekend of the new year. The six weekends behind us represent about 10% of the 1965 opportunities for saving real dollars at the Andover Consumers Cooperative.

Ahead lie 46 more weekends this year. This means 46 more opportunities to shop at the people's very own store - at the store where net savings for a year's operation are returned to the shoppers not as scrip, but as real CASH, genuine legal tender, the "coin of the realm", to spend in any way they see fit, or to save.

This is how it works. You buy your groceries at or below prevailing prices in this supermarket owned by 3,000 local citizens. The year's net earnings will be returned to the owner-patrons in proportion to their patronage. It's that simple.

That is why, at the CO-OP, we can say that: the more you buy, the more CASH you save.

talks are on with a second (unnamed) company in the process of selecting a site for a new facility. Touching on other needs, Candidate Collins said that Andover is moving toward a "financial accounting system" that will be second to none in the Commonwealth.

Both Stewart and Collins quarreled with the third candidate for the Board, Michael E. Brennan, who chided the present Board for its lack of leadership. He took issue particularly with what he labeled the Board's last minute stand on the new high school at the last Town Meeting. Stewart countered with the statement that the cost estimates for this project were shifting downward right up until time for TM, making it impossible for the Selectmen to come out with any early recommendation.

Brennan took issue also with the long-range nature of League's question, stating that he saw more need for a look at the present than the future. He expressed surprise that the Board now in office has not reacted unfavorably to Town Manager Richard Bowen's announced change in accounting procedures which puts "free cash", the annual surplus, into the general fund for use in preparation of yearly budgets. This money, he stated, belongs only to Town Meeting.

Brennan's prime recommendation was for the formation of three groups to lead an all-out program for industry in Andover. All would report to the Industrial Development Commission.

The first would investigate and report on all opportunities for government cooperation in industrial development. The second would have the job of encouraging businesses already located in Andover and the third would be sales "disciples" whose mission would be to contact firms on the prowl for expansion space. He did not specify whether any of these groups would need paid help.

School Candidates

Candidates for the School Committee, asked to speak on the Willis report and its particular meaning for Andover, were unanimous in their opinion that the two-year study of Massachusetts educational procedures contained "some of the best thinking in education today." Several added, however, that the report, which recommends an immediate increase in state aid to education would establish for the first time state-wide minimum standards which should not be considered an adequate goal for Andover.

There seemed to be general agreement among the six candidates on the Willis proposal that the school year be lengthened (from 180 to 185 days), something already under discussion in Andover.

Candidate Virginia Cole drew attention to Andover's present teacher-student ratio, stating that according to Willis standards we are short about 12 teachers in the elementary system and 30 at the secondary level for the number of youngsters currently enrolled.

Dr. Daniel Frishman leaned on the financial aspects of the report, quoting figures to show that state aid now covered only about 10 per cent of Andover's school budget. Most others in the Commonwealth get 20 per cent, he said. And the whole state aid program provides less than the national average of 40 per cent aid.

He pointed out that under the Willis plan, Andover would be eligible for something like 25 per cent in aid. A report from the Massachusetts Educational Conference Board recommends a formula that would bring the town's share nearer to the 40 per cent U.S. average. He reported that it is his understanding the governor will settle on a compromise figure.

As did other candidates, Dr. Louis Galbiati mentioned the report's plan for moving toward a higher percentage of advanced-degree teachers in state school systems. Galbiati said that no official figures were available on the number of Andover teachers who have more than an AB degree, but that a check of school reports shows the ratio in the high school to be about 40 per cent compared with the 63 per cent average in 37 other cities.

He did not specify, the locales surveyed but added that only six of the 36 Andover teachers hired in one sample year had advanced degrees.

Despite the prospect of increased state aid as a result of any implementation of the Willis report, Simeon LeGendre told voters that "we probably have to expect gradual increases" at the local level. The amount of aid available would "still be far short of the amount it would take to improve our tax position, he said.

Candidate Irving Newman turned his comments to some criticisms of present local situations among them: the "sporadic" development of curriculum guides; the limited use of school libraries as "instructional forces"; the limited use of such tools as TV; and the preparation of a new high school plan by a building committee "concerned only with building rooms egg-crate style . . . with no thought for the future."

In his initial presentation Edmund Sullivan stressed the policy role of the School Committee and the firm responsibility of the superintendent as the "sole authority" to recommend new teachers to the committee. He stated the opinion that the superintendent should give the committee several candidates to consider for each job opening.

He responded to a later question concerning some of the problems that can come from grouping students according to ability, by saying that he considers the chief aim of the public system should be to educate the largest number of students possible in the best possible manner, without special attention for any more than a limited number of special groups.

At one point Dr. Galbiati pointed out that grouping students too tightly according to ability can lead to the creation of a hopeless situation for those in the bottom groups. He said he has been told that in Lexington those relegated to the least productive groups have tended to become delinquent.

Most of the candidates appeared to feel that grouping need not produce such results, and some took issue with a teacher in the audience who asked if they would like to see U.S. ten-year-olds trapped by the sort of defeatism which she claimed is afflicting many youngsters in England.

men by-passed her question of what is to be done about parents, many of whom have "inflated ideas" about their child's ability. Dr. Frishman did, however, respond to the reference about the English school system, pointing out that the country has a "fine system" of technical schools which he said goes a long way to relieve the problems created for those who are not routed to higher education.

Other Candidates

Also on the platform were candidates for moderator and the Housing Authority.

Joel Label, an announced write-in candidate for moderator, told the audience that the post of moderator is "vastly underrated". He said Town Meetings he has attended have been "very democratic and very archaic" and said he planned if elected to install transportable mikes and cut down on repetitious debate.

Candidate Arthur Williams emphasized the role of the moderator in appointing the Finance Committee, giving him the responsibility of selecting men with "tremendous integrity."

The third candidate, William H. Wilson was unable to attend the open meeting.

Candidate John B. White, one of two candidates for the Housing Authority was also absent from the platform. John G. McIntosh spoke briefly, however, expressing primarily his feeling that the post is a significant one and his interest in expanding his community service through work with the authority.

Questions

1. To the question of what should be done for the enrichment of the academically talented child, Newman suggested an improved program of testing to identify such children at the elementary level. Dr. Frishman agreed and suggested also getting children out of the classroom and more frequently into museums, art galleries, industrial plants etc.

Mrs. Cole said the lengthening of the school day would provide the time now lacking for enrichment programs.

2. What bait can Andover use to get highly qualified teachers if we offer the state minimum?

Mrs. Cole said providing situations (such as in curriculum development) that will give teachers a chance for satisfaction in their work. Frishman said that too little emphasis is given to the "exceptions" who should be permitted to "move up in the system". LeGendre mentioned improved salaries to meet out-of-state competition for teachers. Newman called for a "stimulated and inspired staff" encouraged to make recommendations for innovations. Sullivan said he considered present salary schedules good, and expressed the opinion that working conditions and other factors are as important as pay in attracting teachers.

SHOPPING CENTER IS REDISCUSS

hearing, Greenwood Rd. residents expressed opposition to the re-creation development, but none was heard to the request for a permit to place a nursing home near Shawsheen Plaza.

Greenwood homeowners told Chairman Alfred Fuller that they would rather have the recreation area about their properties. They suggested reversing the planned locations which would put the three par golf course, children's ski slope and lily (skating) pond next to their land and the shopping center at the rear of the motel.

The Board was told that the nursing home planned by Walter P. Hughes would be on land about 50 feet to the rear of a Main St. hamburger stand. Access would be over a road to be laid out between this stand and the service station next door. An 80 to 100 bed home is proposed.

The board heard some objection to a third petition, that of Edna Kidd who asks that she be permitted to have additional apartments at 97 Elm St. Parking appeared to be the point at issue.

A petition was also received from Edward P. Champy Jr., a Dracut resident who owns property at 24-26 Cuba St. He wants to convert one side of the duplex to two apartments and renovate the other side. Building Inspector Arthur Peatman supported Champy in his plans for improvement which he said would benefit the entire neighborhood.

All four petitions are now under consideration.

Red Cross Workers Have Busy January

January records for the Red Cross, Andover chapter, show that the organization had a busy month, much of it related to the blood program.

An in-plant bloodmobile, at Raytheon which required the work of 31 volunteers for 191 hours, yielded 186 pints of blood, according to month-end statistics. Through the month nine walk-in donors met emergencies at local hospitals and the local RC gave complete blood coverage to 32 patients.

In addition to its motor service for the transportation of hospital patients, etc., the volunteer organization loans sick room equipment without charge. In January seven pieces of such equipment, including one hospital bed, were given residents for temporary use.

Court Will Aid Catholic Girls

Girls interested in trying for a $100 scholarship to any Catholic high school and a $500 scholarship to a Catholic college or school for registered nurses should contact Mrs. Norman Bourgeois, 24 Enmore St.

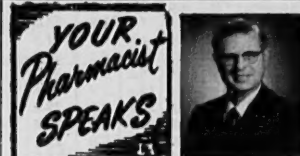

These scholarships, for which application may be made until Feb. 21, are offered by the Massachusetts State Court, Catholic Daughters of America, and are publicized here by Court St. Monica.

The Court, at its last meeting, laid plans for its second Annual Merrimack Valley Catholic Daughters of America Mass and Communion to be held at St. Augustine's Church April 25. The Mass will be celebrated in Our Lady's Chapel at 12:15 by the Very Rev. Francis X. McGuire, O.S.A., S.T.D., Prior and Pastor. A luncheon for daughters from Haverhill, Groveland, Bradford, Lawrence, Methuen and Andover will be served at Andover Country Club.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Wise Vigilance

An up to date assessment of just what the Salk and Sabin vaccines for the control of poliomyelitis can mean in terms of lives and futures protected is now available.

It is estimated that without the benefits of either control, some 35,000 American children and adults would have likely contracted the dread disease last year. Statistics now available for 1964 show however, that polio hit a new low in that 12 month span with only 121 cases reported.

In 1963, when 449 in the country fell victim to one of the three viruses that we lump together in speaking of polio, there were eight outbreaks of paralytic polio, the majority of the cases among unvaccinated persons. Last year, there was no perceptible seasonal increase - no epidemic.

Massachusetts' own polio record for 1964 is even more remarkable. Not one, not a single man, woman nor child in the Commonwealth contracted this killing, crippling disease last year. This fact tends to reinforce the contention of some that polio, which killed 8,822 between the years of 1952 and 1961, may be nearing the vanishing point.

Even if this proves to be a premature conclusion, there can be no doubt that successes here and abroad with the arresting of high polio incidence marks the development of the two vaccines as first rate victories for medical science, equal to those which vanquished cholera, smallpox, diphtheria, yellow fever etc.

The Salk vaccine was approved for general use in 1955 and is credited with immediately cutting the polio incidence from 28,985 in that year to 15,140 the next. By 1960, when the Sabin vaccine came into use, the incidence had dipped to 3,910 and it slid to 1,312 and 910 the following two years.

If you consider the 10-year total of 328,902 - the number afflicted in 1946-55 - and reckon an average, it is conceivable that in every year since some 30,000 to 40,000 persons could have been stricken.

This single record on immunization should be sufficient to alert parents to the value of cooperating with the Massachusetts Department of Public Health's current drive to raise the level of immunization against not only polio but also against tetanus, diphtheria and whooping cough.

The levels of protection against these diseases in certain segments or "pockets" of the population are considered inadequate by both state and U.S. health officials.

They have been so absent from the health scene in recent years that the opportunities for acquiring natural immunity have been almost non-existent, making even more important the protection to be had from artificial immunization.

Health authorities know that a ready supply of germs for all four are ever present, even in communities where no cases have been reported for years. A careless disregard of these facts can lead to fresh trouble with diseases we are adequately equipped to control.

Small Business Is On Increase

Small Massachusetts firms can look forward to continued expansion during 1965, Thomas J. Noonan, Regional Director of the Small Business Administration predicts.

Noonan forecast an increase of 10,000 small businesses in Massachusetts during the next 10 years, based on the present rate of growth. The number of small firms increased seven percent in the past decade, raising the State's total to more than 147,000, about three percent of the country's total.

Summarizing SBA activities in the State, Noonan reported that Massachusetts small businesses received about $14 million in prime military and civilian contracts during the three-month period ended September 30, an increase of $1.9 million over the same period in 1963.

These contracts, he said, resulted from SBA's cooperative set-aside program under which proposed government purchases are reserved for competitive bidding by small businesses. Firms that performed these contracts provided such items as electronic components, paper products, plastics and research.

SBA loans help finance expansion new facilities and equipment, or are for working capital. "Since the Agency was created in 1953, Massachusetts small businesses have received $85.7 million in SBA loans.

The Regional Director pointed out that SBA has licensed 43 small business investment companies in Massachusetts with total capital and surplus of $40 million for investment in small firms.

In addition, Noonan said that SBA makes loans to local development companies to assist local small businesses. The three loans made in Massachusetts resulted in creating 130 new jobs. The Agency is working with business and civic leaders to extend the program to other communities throughout the State.

Since the first SBA loan was approved in 1959, the Agency has made 500 local development company loans totaling more than $71.5 million. The cooperative projects have created an estimated 27,000 new jobs.

Snow Story . . . Inch By Inch

It is too early to predict the end of winter, but not a bit too soon to point out that we didn't break any snowfall records in December and January . . . something to note with relief.

But for those who insist that winters just aren't what they used to be, we call attention to the chart below and the record 61.5 inch snowfall of 1960-61. The figures are for Boston and we print only those for the heavy snow months - December, January, February and March. Figures in the last column represent the total accumulation for each year.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman: "The Willis Report on Massachusetts education may affect Andover adversely in three ways.

"1. If the Willis recommendations are enacted, Andover citizens will be compelled to pay for more than their proportionate share of the extra $123 million required for the program's first year of operation.

"2. Despite Andover's large input, we will probably get very little aid in return. This is because the funds will be distributed chiefly to help poor communities raise their educational expenditures through state aid. By this Robin Hood procedure, the state will try to equalize educational investment among the towns adopting the state's minimum educational standards.

"3. The Report contains implications that far transcend state taxation. If carried out as proposed the recommendations will tend to cancel out the competitive advantage which Andover supposedly has gained by operating a high-priced school system. The effect of our own greater investment may be nullified by the state's policy to create state-wide equality of investment in an attempt to close the gap between the better "light house" school systems and the others.

"What may develop is a ruinous race between this town, raising ever-higher real-estate taxes in a desperate attempt to keep ahead of a state which will use its massive taxing power to help other towns catch up.

Watson of Lawrence is frescoing the hall in the new bank building to be used by St. Matthews' Lodge. Barnard also has a force of painters at work.

The balance against the town of $131,323.96 as shown by a summary of Town Treasurer's report is a good exhibit, considering the large loan of $150,000 which has been raised for the waterworks.

The notorious Tucker Brothers received the rewards for their many misdeeds at the hands of Judge Sherman last Monday. Ten and nine years respectively in State's prison.

A preliminary survey has been made this week for the location of the tracks for the new street railway.

A young man, who represented himself as an agent of a telephone company now here putting in a line from Boston to Lowell, came to the village last week and engaged board with several families, stayed one night and a day each, got a good breakfast and left without settling.

Valprey Brothers sent ten pounds of their best fancy brisket corned beef to Chambersburg, Va. one day this week. This speaks well for the local market.

The Grenfell Class of Free Church met last Saturday night and elected officers which are as follows: President, James P. Christie; vice president, Robert Beel; secretary, Norman Harris; treasurer, Everet Otis. A social hour with games and refreshments followed.

Mrs. Nathan C. Hamblin sustained a compounded fracture of her leg last evening while coasting with a number of friends on Morton St.

Miss Mary Valentine and George Keith, two popular young people of the village, were tendered a tin shower at the home of Charles Valentine on Brechin Ter. last Thursday by the members of the Free Church Christian Endeavor Society. They will be married this week and will reside in Marland Village.

Hail! Hail! - If the frantic efforts of the suffragists to convert the citizens of good old Andover to their ideas of justice are palling terest this battle of dollars is theoretically waged, may be a doubtful winner because a shift of superior teachers from one town to another will enrich teachers without improving teaching.

"From Andover's point of view, the impending state tax is a financial loss without a corresponding educational gain.

"Our own is not the only valid viewpoint, but we would be myopic indeed if we chose to ignore it. Though we should be our brothers' keeper, education like charity, begins at home.

Dino G. Valz

To the Editor of the Townsman: "Renting space for a town hall brings to mind the pleasant idea of getting a fine new building without having to pay for it; rent alone is all we have to supply.

"However, the capital funds saved there are all but certain to be used to over expand public services in other areas so that it shall become increasingly difficult to discipline ourselves to build a town hall, ever. Only recently, the town manager, in an argument with the school committee, was intractable in his stand that "There is nothing as permanent as a temporary arrangement." That is certainly true of rented space for public purposes.

"And as time goes by and it becomes evident that we are less and less able to build a town hall, we can be sure that the rent is going to be increased."

on fair-minded people, they can learn why a large majority of women in Massachusetts do not want the ballot by applying for educational literature at the library, or to Mrs. Alley at the Bookstore, where it can be obtained without money and without price.

William Carnegie Courts of 72 Maple ave. became this week Andover's oldest man, according to a survey made by the Townsman following the passing of John Weeks who had held the honor for the past half year.

Of the 31 charter members who were present at the formal organization of the Andover Grange in 1890, six members were present at the Golden Jubilee in the Grange Hall and were awarded fifty-year veterans' jewels. They were: Mr. and Mrs. James Abbott, Mrs. Hattie Abbott, Mrs. Bertha C. Bailey, Edward S. Hardy and George E. Kline.

Andover's town warrant will probably again this year contain around 50 articles. One of them will probably ask for $1,500 for the erection of portable bleachers at the playstead.

A commuter for the past fifty-two years, Peter F. Cunningham of 17 Highland Rd. was one of the fifty year Boston & Maine passengers honored by the railroad at a dinner in the Hotel Manger Monday.

A statement explaining the difficulties of having Andover abandon its junior high school and citing advantages of the present 6-3-3 set up was read by Chairman C. Carleton Kimball at last week's meeting of the school committee.

Andover's newly organized Lions Club received its charter at a Charter night dinner dance last Saturday at Andover Country Club.

An Andover seaman participated in a daring rescue made in heavy seas off Bermuda a short time ago involving eight airmen. Seaman Apprentice Alexander H. Rogers 2nd., son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving E. Eagle Award

Among other activities was a Scout Service held for Troop and Pack 73 at South Church Sunday, the highlight being presentation of the Eagle Scout Award to Leland Hills.

At a Pack 72, Free Church Blue and Gold supper Saturday, four new boys were taken into membership and two received awards. Badges went to David McLaughlin, Bear and Randall Bedell, Lion. New members welcomed by Cubmaster Harry Bedell were Gary Ritchie, William Walsh, James McEwen and Daniel King. The pack was treated to a demonstration of authentic Indian dances by Troop 160 of Salem which has made a study of various Indian cultures.

At the supper, Free Church received its 1965 charter and began its 35th year of continuous sponsorship, a record considered unusual.

Window displays arranged by the Free Church Pack and Pack 75, St. Augustine's Church, are in store windows on Main St. this week. They draw attention to cubbing crafts and skills.

Sunday Scouts and Cubs from St. Augustine's attended a Communion Breakfast at the new Knights of Columbus Hall where four boys were awarded the highest honor available for Catholic Scouts, the Ad Altare Dei.

Recognized were Shawn Mason, Mark Lindholm, John Korba and Reynolds Monach.

Speakers at the breakfast were: Father Faix of Austin Preparatory School; Robert Smith, Scout executive; Mr. Thomas Duff, vice president of the North Essex Council; Joseph Muzerall, area lay Catholic chairman; Donald Hayes, area representative; John McAllister, Scout Master; Stephen Korba, Cub Master; and Joseph Adams, Committee Chairman.

Cub Awards

Joseph McCarthy, a veteran of some 40 years of Scouting, was assisted by Cub Master Stephen Korba in presenting awards to the following Cub Scouts: Walter Boland, James Duff, and Joseph Adams, Lion badges; James Adams, Robert Gildea, Tony Nicholson, Michael Gearin, Dennis Harty, Bart Farrell, Daniel Mason, Tony Royal, and Jack Lyons, Wolf badges; Dennis Connelly, Robert Lundergan, Richard Sheridan, Joseph Conlon, Edward Flannery, Chris Gannon, and Patrick Doyle, Bear badges;

Atty. Newman Seeking Office

Irving L. Newman, 133 Lovejoy Rd., a practicing attorney with offices in Lawrence, is one of six candidates seeking two positions on the Andover School Committee in the March election.

A specialist in government procurement and construction contracts, Newman was educated at M.I.T. and Boston College Law School. During World War II he was a design engineer for the Oak Ridge, Tenn. atomic project and a development engineer working with experimental radar. In the post-war years he became a consulting management engineer, concerned with the administrative and managerial problems of private business.

Newman's interest in education has led him to make surveys of academic programs and facilities in top-rated public school systems and review instructional and curriculum research programs.

He has addressed a number of organizations on such subjects as: "Evaluation of Public School Systems," "Deficiencies of Public Schools" and "Programs to Improve School Systems."

The attorney is married to the former Harriet Wolfson of Brookline. Their children, Marc and Carol, are students at Andover High and Junior High Schools.

MARCH OF DIMES

The count is still incomplete but it is estimated that approximately $3,600 was collected for the 1965 March of Dimes.

Mrs. Gordon White and James D. Wilson expressed their appreciation this week to those who participated in what they term a "very successful" drive.

Engagement

Corinne E. Benedetti

Corinne E. Benedetti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benedetti, 111 Main St., announces the engagement of her daughter, Corinne, to Mr. Ralph D. Dockray, of Mr. and Mrs. Lance Dockray, 1 Coolidge Rd.

Miss Benedetti is a graduate of the Academy of Notre Dame, Andover, and is attending the Andover School for Women in Andover.

Mr. Dockray is a graduate of Andover High School and a student at Syracuse University.

A summer wedding is planned.

Among local women serving as models was Mrs. Indee Dagli.

Mrs. Dagli is the wife of one of the Andover men training at the hospital.

Modeled several saris, and demonstrated the method of draping these garments so that they remain attractively in place.

Among local women modeling were Mrs. Charles Brox, Mrs. David Leman, Mrs. Joseph Dorsey, Mrs. Leland Siskind, Mrs. John Light, Mrs. Charles Takesian, Mrs. Linda Sabbagh, Mrs. Melvin Mer, Mrs. David Duncan, Mrs. Thomas McCormack, Mrs. William Moldt, Miss Denise Puma, Mrs. Barbara Bixby.

Miss Felicity Hollihan showed the Andover Aid Association and Mrs. C. Wilson Jr., Vice-President, poured at the coffee hour.

Guests were: Mrs. J. Leroy, Mrs. H. Wellington Tinker, Mrs. Ruth Hayes and Mrs. G. Con White.

Mrs. Rudolf Billing, Jr. was the chairman for the event, and Julius Kay was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Doyle returned to their home at 111 Main St. after enjoying a winter vacation in Miami, Fla.

Andover friends of the New England Wild Flower Society gave a tea Thursday to publicize the plight of "The Garden in the Woods," a unique garden that may waste away or fall to developers unless funds are raised to purchase it from its aging founder.

Mrs. Waters Kellogg, a director of the Society and an Andover resident spoke to those at the tea, showing colored slides of the trails and selections from the 4,000 species of plants which grow there.

Will C. Curtis who created the Framingham wild flower garden will turn it over to the society if members can raise a $250,000 maintenance endowment by July 1. Contributions are being accepted.

Hostesses for the tea were Mrs. Edwin Bramley, Mrs. William Endicott II, Mrs. John B. Hawes, Mrs. Munro Leaf, Mrs. Frank Michel, Mrs. John S. Sullivan and Mrs. Kellogg.

Obituaries...

DANIEL BARBERIAN

Daniel Barberian, 73, 5 Chester St., Ballardvale, died Feb. 4 at his home of what has been diagnosed as a coronary thrombosis.

The former contractor was born in Harpoon, Armenia and came to Andover 61 years ago. For a time he operated a dairy farm on land now part of Andover Country Club. He attended Holy Cross Armenian Apostolic Church.

Surviving are his wife, Lusia (Asoian) Barberian; a daughter,

Julia, of Andover; a son, Jack, supervisor of general services for the Andover School System; three grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Monday at David J. Burke, Jr. Funeral Home, Lawrence with afternoon services at Holy Cross Armenian Apostolic Church. Burial was in West Parish Cemetery.

WILLIAM B. CORLISS

William B. Corliss, a resident of Andover until six years ago, died Feb. 2 at Franklin County Public Hospital, Greenfield, after a long illness. He was 88.

Born in Richford, Vt., Sept. 30, 1876, Corliss was a retired farmer and a member of West Parish Church and a life member of the Andover Grange. In Greenfield he lived at 692 Country Club Rd.

He is survived by two daughters, Wilma, wife of Hartwell Abbott of Randolph, Vt. and Helen, wife of Walter True, with whom he made his home; also eight grandchildren.

The funeral was held at Lundgren Funeral Home Feb. 5 with Rev. Frederick B. Noss officiating. Burial will be in West Parish Cemetery.

GEORGE T. CILLEY

A short illness took the life Feb. 8 of George T. Cilley, 78, 5 Walnut St.

Born in East Weare, N. H., Oct. 3, 1886, Mr. Cilley was a resident of Andover for approximately 50 years. Prior to retirement he was a custodian at Phillips Academy.

He was a member of Lawrence Encampment, I.O.O.F., United Brothers Lodge, I.O.O.F., Lawrence and St. Matthew's Lodge, A.F. & A.M. and Free Christian Church.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret S. (Taylor) Cilley; a daughter, Catherine R., wife of Carl Savinelli of Andover; three grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

His funeral will be held today at 2 p.m. at Lundgren Funeral Home with Rev. J. Allyn Bradford, pastor of Free Church, and Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, chaplain at Phillips Academy, officiating. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Service Spices Life For A Busy AHS Club

Month by month, the Service Club at Andover High School has turned its members hands to projects for the good of the school and the community.

In October they worked with the League of Women Voters to hand out voter information to downtown shoppers in preparation for the November Presidential Election.

On Halloween they were at Bon Secours Hospital throwing a party for patients in the children's ward and at Christmas time the students donated money to both CARE and the Lawrence Eagle Tribune Santa Fund. At the high school they put students into the spirit of Christmas by buying and decorating two trees for the school and brightening the windows at the main office with holiday ornaments.

Through the year the Service Club sells and collects tickets for afternoon home sports events and sells refreshments to the spectators. To raise additional funds, for this year the club is planning a February bake sale.

And to cheer both themselves and the children at Burke Memorial Hospital, the club will take a Valentine Day party to the sick, sharing candy and games with the youngsters confined there.

Officers of this organization are Andrea Pasquale, president; Harriet Keaney, vice president and secretary; Lorraine Broderick, treasurer; Pamela Porter, publicity chairman. Mrs. Francis Coughlin is club advisor.

TEENS PLAN FRIDAY DANCE

West Andover Teens will hold a dance Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the West Andover Community Assoc. building, the old North School. All teenagers are invited. A minimum charge will be made.

Pulpit Swap Is Arranged

In recognition of Race Relations Sunday Andover's Unitarian Universalist Church and The Third Baptist Church of Lawrence will exchange ministers, organists, choirs & directors this Sunday, Feb. 14.

Guest minister at the Andover service will be Rev. Alfred Jones of the Lawrence congregation. Mr. Jones has served the Third Baptist Church for the past three years. He is also a teacher at the Methuen High School. A graduate of Virginia Union University in Richmond, Va., he received his B.D. degree from Andover Newton Theological Seminary. A leading figure in the Negro community he has participated in numerous local committees and is active in the local chapter of the N.A.A.C.P.

The Community is invited to attend the 10:30 a.m. service.

Camp Fire Girls

Andover has formed its first Camp Fire Horizon Club with Mrs. Chester Kopatch, 3 Dumbarton St., as advisor.

Registered members of this new group, which represents the last phase in the Camp Fire Girls program, are Miss Elizabeth I. Cahoun, assistant to the advisor, Marcia Anderson, Marcia D. Cohen, Judith Copeland, Linda Hughes, Linda J. Kopatch, Mary Jo McEvoy, Karen Nelson and Pamela Potter.

The club name will be Wahanika. Since December, four of its members have attended cabinet meetings in Boston and will report to the group tonight.

Prior to Horizon membership girls must progress through Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls and Jr. Hi Camp Fire Girls programs.

Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls from South School made a recent bus trip to the Ice Capades in Boston.

Girls attending, with leaders, assistant leaders and mothers for chaperones, were:

The Ta-wa-ka Camp Fire Girls, sixth graders from Shawheen School, started the New Year with election of officers. Susan Scribner was elected president; Susan Cox vice president, and Lynne Himmer, secretary.

Joy Stanton was made responsible for publicity. She reported that the group went to Salem, to visit the Essex Institute, where the collection of Early American doll houses was of special interest. While in Salem they also toured the Pingree House, formerly a sea captain's home.

Girls making the trip were Pamela Armstrong, Diana Cox, Susan Cox, Debbie Davis, Rosanne Fitzgerald, Kathy Harding, Lynne Himmer, Margaret Murphy, Susan Scribner, Kathy Sheehy, Sylvia Sorenson, and Wendy Wood. They were accompanied by their guardians Mrs. Robert Scribner and Mrs. Augustus Sheehy. The group's service project for the month is making bandages for the Leprosy Hospital in India.

Friends of Mr. Merwyn Darby will be pleased to know that he has returned to his home on Clark Rd. after a long confinement in Baker Memorial Hospital, Boston. He is, however, still confined to his bed.

150 NEW AIR-RIDE MOVING VANS TO SERVE YOU BETTER -

150 new Air-Ride moving vans have just been purchased by the Aero Mayflower Transit Company of Indianapolis . . . long distance movers we represent in Andover.

These new, 34 foot, single axle, high cube vans have 2,450 feet of load capacity and feature an air-suspension system that reduces road shock to a minimum. Independent road tests have shown that conventional steel spring systems transmit 86% more road shock, on the average, than air-suspension systems.

This all adds up to better service for you . . . greater protection for your possessions. Consult Jean Paul Charron, moving expert whether you are moving close by or far away. Mr. Charron will give you a free, visual estimate.

Practical Beauty

When you invest in material to make your home look its very best, you should insist on the very best service and material, otherwise your purchase becomes not an investment but only a temporary purchase. And there is one big reason so many folks in town shop at LAWRENCE RUG AND LINOLEUM COMPANY, Inc., 278 South Broadway, Lawrence when they are shopping for carpets, rugs, linoleum or tile. Dick and Ben insist on top brands of carpeting and linoleum. Carpeting names include the most famous - Lee's, Beattie, Alden and World. And service? You never even have to leave your home to shop at LAWRENCE RUG AND LINOLEUM. Just dial 683-3151 and a company representative will come to your home. Rather do it yourself? You'll get every assistance from either Mr. Trask or Mr. Greska. If the store does the installation, Lawrence Rug and Linoleum has their own staff of well-trained, insured installers, and their work is guaranteed to satisfy. There are so many reasons to make LAWRENCE RUG AND LINOLEUM your floor covering headquarters. Why take chances elsewhere? Want more information? Dial 683-3151. The store where your purchase is an investment in home beauty.

Security Is

Security is buying a new automobile and not having any major repairs for years. Impossible? Not if you buy your new car from the CLARK MOTOR COMPANY, Inc., 273 South Union Street, Lawrence. At least if you do have repairs, they are not your worry, for every Chrysler, Plymouth or Valiant carries the unique motor-ing guarantee of five years or 50,000 miles. And this guarantee is for real - parts and labor for every major part in your car, replaced without charge. No other automobile can afford to give a deal like this. But there is more to Chrysler, Plymouth and Valiant than this. Beauty and comfort and without a doubt the best ride on the market. But you have to drive this car to believe it, and you can. Drop in on the CLARK MOTOR folks and ask to drive their 1965 beauties. You'll be amazed at how easy it is to own a car from CLARK MOTORS. And you'll be secure with the knowledge that THIS automobile is truly an automobile built to last. But do it today.

Comfortable

That's the word around which the entire operation of the HALCYON HOUSE REST HOME, 175 Berkeley Street, Lawrence, centers. A comfortable home for elderly people is their purpose, and they accomplish this purpose to the fullest extent. Bright and cheerful, every room is dedicated to this one word - comfort. Pleasant surroundings are of prime importance. So is good food, and HALCYON HOUSE spares no effort or cost to further both these desires. You are welcome to visit the HALCYON HOUSE to examine the facilities and get further information. If you wish, information will gladly be given by phoning MU 5-5505. Every effort has been aimed at one goal - pleasant, comfortable surroundings for elderly people. And if you have elderly people who you'd like to see comfortably situated, please write, phone or drop in to the HALCYON HOUSE, 175 Berkeley Street, Lawrence. That number is MU 5-5505.

Junior League Bowling

Junior league bowling keeps growing! More and more youngsters are participating in Junior League Bowling because they find that their age and size are no handicap in candlepin bowling. Junior leagues are being formed in CYO and American Legion groups, schools, boy's clubs, churches and other groups. There's a world of opportunity for all youngsters to join the fun and competition. The fun starts the very first time you bowl, and it gets better with experience and know-how. The ANDOVER RECREATION CENTER, 34 Park St., is always ready and able to assist youngsters in furthering their bowling pleasure both with league and individual play. By phoning 475-9706, information on special times that are devoted to junior bowling and leagues can be obtained. An example of this is ANDOVER RECREATION'S Saturday morning PONY leagues. Bowling is a healthy fun-filled activity. And the ANDOVER RECREATION CENTER has special, greatly reduced rates for the youngsters. Call them and get started on the fun-filled candlepin bowling road.

No Better Time

It is almost the season when we will again start to concern ourselves with water sports. It may seem a little early, but for perfect motor performance, that outboard should be thoroughly checked to assure you of hours of trouble-free boating fun when the season does get here. If you are a do-it-yourselfer or have to have the motor checked by experts, make MERRIMAC MARINE SUPPLY, 244 East Street, Methuen, your boating supply headquarters. Walter Kalil has all the necessary items for that motor tune-up if you're doing it yourself, and expert mechanics if you are going to bring that motor in. MERRIMAC MARINE is also the authorized Mercury motor dealer, and if you are ready to trade up to a new 1965 Mercury motor, Walt has them all in stock right there in his display room. An excellent trade-in allowance can be given, and you'll start the season with the acknowledged leader in outboard motoring fun - Mercury. Visit MERRIMAC MARINE at 244 East Street BEFORE the boating season and you'll be ready when it comes.

Camp Fire Girls

Andover has formed its first Camp Fire Horizon Club with Mrs. Peter Kopatch, 3 Dumbarton St., as advisor.

Registered members of this new club, which represents the last in the Camp Fire Girls program, are Miss Elizabeth L. Anderson, Marla D. Copeland, Linda J. Copeland, Linda J. Kopatch, Mary McEvoy, Karen Nelson and La Potter.

The club name will be Wahanka. In December, four of its members have attended cabinet meeting in Boston and will report to camp tonight.

For to Horizon membership must progress through Blue, Green, Yellow, Orange, Red, Purple, Brown, and finally to the Ice Capades in white.

Attending, with leaders, parent leaders and mothers for the first time, were: Elise Flonte, Judge, Rose Lewis, Mindy Hardt, Brenda Peterson, Hancock, Karen Strobel, Ella Kelley, Susan Legros, Ellen King, Sharon McGrath, Passanisi, Nancy Reid, Susan, Susan Rochwarg, Sara Lee, Pam Duddy, Jean Manning, Deschene, Carol Siggelkoe, Elaine Murphy, Eileen Koch, Lemire, Kathy Strobel, Bernard, Joan Martelucci, Cornwell, Mary Davidson, Erickson, Kathy Hamilton, Hood, Shelley Hunt, Jody, Heather Moody, Libbey, Julie Russem, Virginia Peterson, Julie Van Wyk.

Ta-wa-ka Camp Fire Girls, leaders from Shawshen, started the New Year with an officers, Susan Scribner, elected president; Susan Cox, resident, and Lynne Himmer, secretary.

Stanton was made responsible for publicity. She reported the group went to Salem, at the Essex Institute, where collection of Early American houses was of special interest. In Salem they also toured the House, formerly a sea captain's home.

On making the trip were: Armstrong, Diana Cox, Cox, Debbie Davis, Roanne, Kathy Harding, Lynne, Margaret Murphy, Susan, Kathy Sheehy, Sylvia, and Wendy Wood. They were accompanied by their parents, Mrs. Robert Scribner, Augustus Sheehy. The service project for the year is making bandages for the Hospital in India.

Deaths of Mr. Merwyn Darby, who was pleased to know that he had returned to his home on Clark Street after a long confinement in Memorial Hospital, Boston, however, still confined to bed.

$2,258,953 For 1965 School Budget Now At

The School Department budget was pared by $3,495 Tuesday, and set at $2,258,953, up from last year's appropriation of $2,102,110.

The slight reduction came after a conference between the Finance Committee and the School Committee. Cut by $1,000 was the planned $2,800 allotment for temporary secretarial help, put in the budget to cover costs if office relief, in the form of a book-keeping machine did not come through this year. Since the manager has already made arrangement for rental of a temporary machine, the Fin Com thought this item could be cut.

Out of the salary allocations came $2,495 which makes an allowance for attrition during the school year.

Otherwise the budget is cleared as set up, though some minor downward revisions could result if a present town compensation and pay plan study should set pays for non-professional employees at less than the sum allocated. Supt. Erickson thinks this is likely since the committee attempted to allow for this possibility in making its estimates.

In the budget as it stands is an allocation of $1,848,000 for salaries and $410,953 for expenses.

Club To Honor Its Presidents

The National Association of Accountants, Merrimack Valley Chapter, will honor past presidents at its monthly technical meeting to be held Feb. 17 at 6:30 p.m. at Treadway Motor Inn, Lawrence.

Plans for the Past President's Night were announced this week by the current president, Robert Dulude, and are being drawn by Erving LeCain, chairman.

"Reducing Shipping and Handling Cost" will be the subject for speaker Frank M. Cushman, director of Frank M. Cushman Associates, transportation consultants specializing in cost control and cost reduction.

Cushman is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts with a B. A. degree in economics; the University of Pennsylvania, Wharton School of Finance and Commerce with a M. A. in economics; he has also done graduate work at New York University Graduate School of Business Administration.

In 1953, he published "Transportation for Management" which won the National Merit Award granted by the Associated Traffic Clubs of America for the greatest achievement in the advancement of transportation education for industry for that year. He now authors a monthly column which appears in a number of trade publications.
